BOTANICAL GIN

Mikkeller gin is a high quality gin, handmade using a small copper still one small batch at a time. Made with Simcoe hops and a carefully selected mix of botanicals, the technique used to impart flavors to this gin makes it a very special one. The natural botanicals are measured and infused into the spirit during distillation, a process that gives Mikkeller Spirits Botanical Gin an amazingly fresh aroma and taste. Forget about a juniper and pine overdose, this Botanical Gin is a smooth and rich spirit. It can be used with mixers and it can definitely be drunk alone.

You may be aware of the 18th Century gin-craze making a comeback and that consuming gin can bring about wild side-effects. But, when drinking Mikkeller Spirits Botanical Gin, you will most likely be hit by an overwhelming feeling of happiness mixed with a slight, comforting adjusted way of seeing life: The good life!

Tasting notes

Distilled with the finest botanicals, this well- balanced gin has a full aroma of juniper berries, lemongrass and soft tones of angelica root. There's a spicy little touch of cardamom on the palate, finishing with slightly bittersweet hints of orange. Note the hoppy feeling you get: the US Simcoe hops add a lemon zesty touch.

Drink it straight if you are man enough – don't worry, it's as smooth as silk – or make the perfect G & T with crushed ice, the best Tonic water you can find, Mikkeller Gin and a slice of orange.
